

THE DALLAS-FORT WORTH REGION

The Dallas Regional Chamber welcomes you and your company to the DFW region. This region is an innovation hub with a wealth of resources that make it an ideal business climate. The DFW region's attractive quality of life, strong regional and state economy, low cost of living, young and skilled labor force, pro-business mindset and absence of corporate and personal income taxes all contribute to the thriving DFW location.

Forward-looking companies seeking a friendly and profitable place to do business are discovering our numerous benefits.

Due to its central location and world-class transportation infrastructure, DFW is a major international gateway. The region excels in passenger air travel and air cargo operations with the nation's third busiest airport, DFW International Airport; Dallas Love Field Airport, home to the largest domestic airline in the country; and the world's first fully industrial airport, Fort Worth Alliance Airport. Our roads and rail lines are remarkable for delivery of freight products across the country.

Our region ranks among the top three U.S. metropolitan areas for business expansions, relocations and employment growth. DFW's young, highly educated workforce of over three million people is growing quickly, providing companies with the abundance of talent they need to make their business a success.

Texas' business climate, combined with the attributes and functionality that Dallas currently holds as a major corporate headquarters destination, sends a simple yet compelling message. There is no better region from which to operate a national or global firm today, next year, or even 10 to 20 years from now.

We know you will find yourself right at home in the DFW region. We look forward to supporting your business expansion projects.
